STATEMENT OF REASONS*VII COURT DETERMINATIONS OF RESTITUTION

- A ☐ Restitution Not Applicable.
- B Total Amount of Restitution: 69,447.00
- C Restitution not ordered (Check only one.):
- 1 ☐ For offenses for which restitution is otherwise mandatory under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A, restitution is not ordered because the number of identifiable victims is so large as to make restitution impracticable under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A(c)(3)(A).
  - 2 ☐ For offenses for which restitution is otherwise mandatory under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A, restitution is not ordered because determining complex issues of fact and relating them to the cause or amount of the victims' losses would complicate or prolong the sentencing process to a degree that the need to provide restitution to any victim would be outweighed by the burden on the sentencing process under 18 U.S.C. § 3663A(c)(3)(B).
  - 3 ☐ For other offenses for which restitution is authorized under 18 U.S.C. § 3663 and/or required by the sentencing guidelines, restitution is not ordered because the complication and prolongation of the sentencing process resulting from the fashioning of a restitution order outweigh the need to provide restitution to any victims under 18 U.S.C. § 3663(a)(1)(B)(ii).
  - 4 ☐ Restitution is not ordered for other reasons. (Explain.)

THE COURT: One of the overarching instructions from -- no, you can sit for a minute -- from the relevant statute is that the sentence imposed should be sufficient, but not greater than necessary, to achieve the various sentencing goals that are outlined in that statute.

In this case, I think that a sentence within the guidelines range, as I have and the Probation Office, at least, have calculated it is 37 to 46 months, is greater than is necessary under the circumstances, and so I will look to something other than a guideline sentence.

I concur with the government and the Probation Office that the circumstances, as they've been disclosed, are not sufficient to warrant what we now call an orthodox departure within the rubric of the guidelines themselves. Particularly the arguments concerning the military and employment I think are not extraordinary. I don't doubt the difficulties that Mrs. Cavanaugh has. I have read Dr. Ho's letter. It is, unfortunately, a very sad and common thing that families, spouses, children, are often severely affected and have to bear the burden of their husband and father's incarceration, but it's not unusual, and so I don't think it's a factor that in this case calls for a departure within the guidelines rubric.

That brings us to the question of an appropriate sentence under Booker and the following cases under all the

1     pertinent circumstances.

2             The touchstone in post-Booker sentencing is whether
3     the sentence is reasonable. I think that a sentence that did
4     not call for incarceration would not be a reasonable sentence
5     under these circumstances. I don't think it needs to be as 6     significant as the government contends for because I think
7     other factors can be included that are not often included to 8     complete this sentence. So, I think, as I say, I believe that 9     there must be some period of incarceration. I think 18 months
02:46 10     is a sufficient time.

11            This is, after all -- this was a deliberate and 12     extended episode of criminal activity. That is the nature and 13     circumstances of the offense, and there is -- therefore, I need
14     to punish it. I do not give great weight in deciding on the 15     sentence to his state criminal record, except as it is 16     calculated into the guidelines, and certainly not regarding 17     that as a driving factor for the sentence here. I think that 18     is an episode that was completed and perhaps completed rather 19     successfully.

02:47 20            What is distressing is that having been punished in 21     state prison, and despite the other good work that 22     Mr. Cavanaugh was doing, he undertook a course of conduct which 23     required contrivance. It wasn't simply the failure to file tax
24     returns, it involved setting up a straw corporation and having 25     a system by which the money could have been concealed. That

1     conduct, coming after significant state punishment, I think, is
2     a concern under the factor in the statute to protect the public
3     from future offenses of this defendant, that's sometimes
4     referred to as specific deterrence. Actually, I suppose you
5     could even make the argument that recidivism in a new field
6     might be worse than falling back on your old ways.

7             There's also the need for general deterrence in
8     support of the laws of the United States.

9             So, for all of those reasons, I think an incarcerative
02:48 10     sentence is necessary.

11            I think a period of supervised release of two years
12     thereafter is also appropriate.

13            I will also impose -- I will accept the government's 14     recommendation of a fine in the amount of $15,000, plus the 15     restitution in the amount of $69,447.

16            PROBATION OFFICER: Your Honor, with respect to the
